Nocturnal Animals: Living the Another

Nightlife

Sunday, October 29, 1:00 – 2:30 pm Live Animal Presentation at 1:15 & 2 pm at Innis Arden Cottage

Discover the world of nature at night! We'll meet some local nocturnal animals, as well as some from around the world. Explore how animals use their senses to survive under the cover of darkness. Through live animals, mounts, artifacts, and activities, we'll investigate how animals like owls, opossums, and bats find their food at night, and see how some animals can be selectively nocturnal due to weather. For more information about this event, please email the FoGP Education Committee at

Another Year of Accomplishment

With help from FoGP donors, volunteers and board members of Friends of Greenwich Point have worked diligently to improve the Point's natural beauty, protect nature's habitats and provide the many educational and recreational activities our community enjoys.

In the past twelve months, the following projects were accomplished.

Education and Recreational Programs

- Scales & Slime: Reptiles and Amphibians
- Invertebrates: No Backbone. No Problem!
- · Wildlife in Winter
- · St. Patrick's Day Concert with the Murthas
- · Greenwich Point Art Show
- SafeRoads Sundays
- Sunday Concert Series in the Seaside Garden
- Annual Greenwich Park Employee Luncheon

Habitat Maintenance and Restoration

- The entry dune and cove side of the entry road were cleaned of invasive plants, weeds and dead vegetation and additional beach grass was planted.
- The dune and the berm located in the front of the 2nd concession stand picnic area was cleared of summer growth, shrubs were planted, close to 14,000 plugs of beach grass were planted and protective fencing was installed.
- Two Holly Grove clean-up days saw the removal of dead limbs, debris and invasive vines that overflowed 10 dumpsters.
- A new entrance (entrance posts, header rail and sign) to the Holly Grove was installed.
- The newly planted Clambake meadow was cleared of weeds giving the grass an opportunity to thrive and spread.
- The bluff saw the removal of overgrowth pushing the surrounding border out by ten plus feet. In addition, several large evergreens were cleaned of their invasive vine covering.
- Daily winter bird-feeder maintenance.

Special Author Presentation: Junk Raft by Marcus Eriksen Sunday, November 12, 2:00 pm. Doors open at 1:30 pm, at Innis Arden Cottage

In 2008, Marcus Eriksen and a friend traveled 88 days and 2600 miles on a raft made from 15,000 plastic bottles to build awareness and spark a movement to save our seas from plastic pollution.

Hear from the cofounder of 5 Gyres and the author of Junk Raft: An Ocean Voyage and a Rising Tide of Activism to Fight Plastic Pollution.

Event is co-sponsored by Friends of Greenwich Point and Bruce Museum

SAFE ROADS SUNDAYS Nov. 19 – April 9:00 am – 12:30 pm

In its 19th year, the ever popular Friends of Greenwich Point Safe Roads Sundays program kicks off on November 19.

From 9:00 am – 12:30 pm, traffic will be restricted to the main parking lots. During this time, walkers, joggers, bicyclists, skaters and other outdoor enthusiasts can safely enjoy the open roads that circle the Point.

To make this program possible, funding for the Department of Parks & Recreation Safe Roads security attendant is provided by the Friends of Greenwich Point.

On the Ground, In the Sound A new FoGP initiative

Friends of Greenwich Point's new campaign On the Ground, In the Sound will focus on the problem of marine debris, the importance of a healthy Long Island Sound, and actions to protect our waters and marine life. Through educational programming, social action, and informational signage, we hope to raise awareness of this issue and improve the beauty and health of the Greenwich Point shoreline and its surrounding waterways.

The initiative kicked off this spring when we partnered with fifth graders and their families from Riverside School to collect debris at Greenwich Point. Our organization created and posted educational signage at the concession stands and Holly Grove to highlight facts about this issue and debris prevention. Our fall calendar includes two events A Plastic Ocean film on November 5, and a presentation by Marcus Eriksen, the author of Junk Raft, on November 12.

Did you know that 80% of trash in our waterways originates on land? Our land and our seas are intimately connected. Debris enters our waterways from the land intentionally or unintentionally through littering, storm water discharge, and natural disasters. Among the most frequently found items are cigarettes, food wrappers and containers, plastic beverage bottles and caps, and plastic bags - all of which are frequently found on the shores of Greenwich Point. Marine debris negatively affects the aesthetics of our environment, is a human health and safety hazard, threatens our wildlife, and comes at an economic cost. However, individual actions can make a big difference, and it is an issue we can solve together!

You can help:

- ! Join a local cleanup or pick up debris on your own as you walk along the paths and shorelines at Greenwich Point.
- ! Dispose of waste properly.
- ! Reduce the amount of waste you produc
- ! Reuse items and choose reusable over single-use and disposal ones.
- ! Recycle as much as possible.

Children's Arts & Music Celebration

On Sept. 16, FoGP hosted a Children's Arts and Music Celebration in the Seaside Garden. The festivities kicked off with a dynamic performance by local band Ray & Jay. The StoryFaces production amazed participants as faces were transformed with paint to illustrate traditional folktales and original stories. Bash the Trash, entertainers who build, perform and educate with musical instruments made from recycled and reused materials culminated the afternoon with a garden parade of children with horns and maracas they created themselves with water bottles and cardboard tubes. Throughout the event, families had a blast with incredible face painting, temporary tattoos and corn hole competitions. They also decorated a collaborative, large-scale painting. Many thanks to local partners, Greenwich Land Trust and Greenwich Recycling, Advisory Board, the families who joined us and the many volunteers who made the day a success!
